

Development and Alumni Relations (DAR) Our Data Protection Values

We are proud of our alumni and friends and want to stay in touch

The University and the Colleges have a shared interest in and co-ordinated approach to their alumni and supporters. This statement explains how the University handles and uses data it collects. (Colleges also keep data and have their own data protection procedures.) DAR keeps in touch with all University alumni, provides services to them, and focuses on relationships with potential and existing donors. Paper records are also held.

Transparency

The records are used by the University for alumni relations and fundraising purposes. These include publications, alumni surveys, appeals and the marketing of alumni events and services such as CAMCard, the University credit card, alumni email and online services and the travel and merchandise programmes. Communications may be sent by post, telephone or, increasingly, electronic means.

Most records contain education, contact details, and career and other achievements. Contact and relationships with the University since graduation and donations are also recorded. In some cases other data is added, such as data from external partners (see below); sensitive data you provide for a specific purpose (disability or lifestyle status for event management or updating of personal history for example); information about your family and other relationships; financial data coming from you or reputable public sources; and information about your areas of interest and potential to support the University and the Colleges.

Security and controlled data sharing with partners

All information is held and transmitted securely and (in addition to disclosure as permitted or required by law) may be disclosed on a considered and confidential basis only to:

- Colleges and University clubs and societies
- Cambridge in America (the University's affiliate office in the US), alumni societies and volunteers
- Associated bodies for example Cambridge scholarship trusts, and wholly owned companies such as Cambridge Enterprise Ltd
- Selected companies who provide University-branded alumni programmes (merchandise, travel etc)

The University also facilitates communication between individual alumni, but in doing so does not release personal contact details without prior permission.

Control

We are proud of our alumni and friends and want to stay in touch. However you are in control. If you have any queries, wish to restrict data processing or sharing including use for marketing, or do not want to be contacted by the University, please contact us using the details below.

Once you have returned this form, we will add you to our list of supporters who receive emails about relevant philanthropic opportunities and events run by the University of Cambridge. If you do not wish to receive these emails, tick the appropriate box/es below.

- Events
 Philanthropic opportunities

If you leave a box blank, we will assume that you are happy to receive these communications until you tell us otherwise.

As most of our communications are by email, if you tick a box, you might not receive any notifications about the excluded categories at all. Please note that our emails to you are defined as unsolicited electronic marketing messages by UK data protection legislation.

Electronic newsletters and updates about the University may still contain references to Alumni Groups, upcoming events, benefits, services and fundraising.

How the University uses your data

The University of Cambridge is registered under the UK Data Protection Act and is committed to protecting your personal information. See our data protection statement at: www.philanthropy.cam.ac.uk/dataprotection for full details of how we process and hold your data.

If you choose not to receive further communications from the University, please note that we will need to retain minimal information to make sure you are not contacted again inadvertently: your name, College, subject, matriculation and graduation details, USN and date of birth.) You will also need to contact your College separately if you wish to restrict College data processing, sharing, marketing or contact.

We will publish any changes we make to this data protection statement and, where appropriate, notify you directly by email.
